

About This Song

You are not an accident.

You were created with unique value, a deep purpose, and a perfect design.

But life leaves its marks. Experiences, wounds, false beliefs, and the influences of this world can hide what was originally placed within us. Too often, we live far below what we were created to be.

This song speaks of the hope that God's original design has not been lost.

Through Jesus Christ, the way has been opened again. He invites us to discover who we truly are, why we were created, and the life that was intended for us from the very beginning. This is not about becoming someone else. It is about returning to what God placed within you from the start—

His masterpiece, His original design.
