

About This Song

The young woman in the video knows what it feels like when something is missing in life.

Even though the world around her keeps moving, she feels empty inside, lost, and without real hope.

But she refuses to settle for that. Deep within her heart, a longing begins to grow—a longing for something real, for a life that is more than simply getting through each day.

With all that she is, she begins to search. Then something unexpected happens. She encounters Jesus.

Not everything changes at once. But where there was darkness, hope begins to appear. Where there was fear, peace starts to grow. Where there was emptiness, new life begins.

The more she trusts Him, the more her life is transformed. What first begins deep within her heart gradually becomes visible on the outside. She discovers a new joy, a new hope,
and a quality of life she had never known before. In the end, she is not the same anymore.
